Case Involving County
Funds Dispute

Case Expected to be Appealed to the Supreme Court for Final Ruling

Judge W. L. Nuessle, of district court, today issued a writ of mandamus ordering H. P. Knappen, former county treasurer, and the Bank of North Dakota to turn over to J. A. Flow, new county treasurer, a total of $401,000, which taxpayers had alleged in a mandamus action Knappen had failed to do.

The case is expected to go to the supreme court immediately for final determination of a number of important questions, although Mr. Knappen said that until he had read the formal order and had consulted with attorneys he could not say what action he would take.

Includes General Fund.
The money Knappen is ordered to turn over to the treasurer includes $150,000 general fund money placed on certificate of deposit in the Bank of North Dakota, and $251,000 in a checking account. Judge Nuessle refused to order Knappen to turn over $88,000 in a sinking fund which he had placed in the Bank of North Dakota on his last two days in office, holding that it was not properly subject to mandamus action.

The local taxpayers who brought the suit alleged that Knappen had put $150,000 general fund money and $88,000 sinking fund money in the Bank of North Dakota on his last two days in office, and that in so doing he tied up the funds of the county so that the political subdivisions cannot be given their apportionment. Flow refused to accept the certificates and Knappen declined to turn over the remainder of the funds.

"DEATH" WAGONDepartment of Justice Holds
Man in Wall Street Bomb
Explosion Case

New York, May 19.—A federal warrant was issued today for Giuseppe deFilippo, Bayonne truckman, detained as a Wall street bomb plot suspect, charging him with having attempted to destroy the United States assay office.

At the same time police announced that Herman Smith, retired fireman who several weeks ago identified Peter Ligi, a Scranton, Pa., suspect as a man he had seen talking to the driver of the death cart, told them deFilippo looked like the driver.

The warrant was issued by United States Commissioner Hitchcock on complaint of Charles Scully, head of the department of justice headquarters in this city, who said deFilippo had been identified by several persons as the driver of the death cart which figured in the explosion.

Bayonne, N. J., May 19.—The police announced today that three persons had identified Giuseppe deFilippo, Bayonne truckman, arrested yesterday on suspicion as the man they had seen in Wall street within a few hours of the disastrous explosion last September.

WANTS TARIFF
EFFECTIVE NOW

Washington, May 19.—Preparatory to introduction of the revised permanent tariff bill Representative Longworth, of Ohio, Republican member of the ways and means committee, introduced today a joint resolution to make effective immediately all rates carried by the bill as reported. The temporary rates thus set up would remain effective while the tariff bill was making the journey through Congress.

ELLIS ISLAND
QUARANTINED;
TYPHUS FOUND

New York, May 19.—Ellis island, through which the bulk of the country's immigration passes, today was placed under strict quarantine because of the death yesterday from typhus of Andrej Steinback, a Jugo-Slav boy, 5 years old.

The 1,700 immigrants were removed to the detention station at Hoffman's island. Commissioner of Immigration Wallace announced the Ellis island station would not be reopened for 48 hours. Arriving immigrants will be held on ship board.

MRS. SOUTHARD, FIRST HUSBAND AND CHILD

COMPLETE STORY OF MRS.
SOUTHARD'S FATAL WOUNDS

By Newspaper Enterprise.

San Francisco, May 19.—"She swept the men of her choice off their feet—courted them so persistently that they could not escape."

That's the way V. H. Ormsby, a deputy sheriff of Twin Falls, Idaho, describes the romance of Mrs. Lydia Southard, under arrest at Honolulu on a charge of murdering Ed Meyers of Twin Falls, her fourth husband.

Ormsby and his wife, who also is a deputy sheriff, are en route to Honolulu to return Mrs. Southard to Twin Falls, where she will be questioned about the mysterious deaths of three other of her five husbands, a brother-in-law and her own daughter.

Mrs. Southard, now the wife of Paul Vincent Southard, petty officer on the U. S. S. Chicago, has promised not to fight extradition. Her husband offered to pay the expenses of his wife and an official to Twin Falls so that the investigation may be speeded.

Mrs. Southard denies the charges, and says she can satisfactorily explain the deaths of her former husbands. She told officials she believed she was a "typhoid carrier," and that this may have been responsible for some of them.

"Take poor Ed Myers for example," says Deputy Sheriff Ormsby. "He was the woman's fourth husband. In 1920 he was running a little ranch out near Twin Falls when Lydia came home after Harlem Lewis, husband No. 2, had died in Montana and she had collected $5,000 in insurance."

Everybody Talking.
"She rigged herself out fit to L.D.I. bought a long black coat and a closed car. Everybody in town was talking about the way she ran around in dances."

"She courted Ed right off his feet. 'She talked around town that she wasn't in love with Ed, but she wanted a home, and she said that sometime she might learn to love him."

"Well, in August she and Ed were married after he took out a $10,000 insurance policy. In September Ed died."

"The townfolks weren't just satisfied. They started a lot of talk and the insurance company held up payment on the policy. The matter got into politics and folks wanted to know what she was doing."

MADE DEPUTIESTo Serve as Policemen in Border
Trouble

Williamson, W. Va., May 19.—Sixty-nine citizens of Williamson were today deputized as state policemen and will serve under the county authorities to preserve order in the mining region along the Tag river. This action was taken because West Virginia has no national guard, and its force of regular state police is limited to about 80 officers and men.

After four days of comparative quiet the region became active today.

SCHOOL KIDDIES CHEER FOR ELKS
SWIMMING POOL AND WILL PARADE
FRIDAY TO HELP OUT CAMPAIGN

School kiddies will parade Friday afternoon in downtown streets, led by the Elks band, to voice their support of the Elks campaign to build a swimming pool for them.

The parade will be held after school and there will be hundreds of children in line.

Committees visited the schools today and talked to the children. "Any one who had heard the cheers and enthusiasm of the children could not hesitate for a moment in subscribing to the fund to build the swimming pool," said S. W. Derrick, one of the committee.

The kiddies are joining heartily in the plan of the general Elks committee. To give every person in the city an opportunity to aid in the building of the swimming pool, a committee of school children will begin the sale of sacks of cement Saturday morning. A person may buy one or more sacks of cement to be used in constructing the pool.

Through the plan the Elks hope to enlist nearly everybody in the city, distributing the cost so that a burden will fall on no one.

The general committee is continuing its organization work. Definite arrangements have been completed so that every bit of material will be purchased at absolute cost, the committee announces.

SHADOW OVER CAPITAL

Chief Justice Had Become One of Best Loved Figures of National Capital

Washington, May 19.—President Harding today turned away from the world-wide problems long enough to carry in person to the nation's grief in the death of Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States. Meanwhile messages of sympathy and grief were pouring in from all parts of the nation and world and in mark of respect the senate adjourned for the day.

Washington, May 19.—The death here this morning of Edward Douglas White, veteran chief justice of the United States Supreme court, cast a shadow of sorrow today over the national capital, where during his long years of service on the supreme court bench he had grown in the admiration and esteem not only of his official associates but of the entire community.

The chief justice, who was 76 years old, had enjoyed rugged health up to the time he was forced to submit to the recent operation for bladder trouble.

Appointed by Taft.

Chief Justice White was born in the parish of Lafayette, La., and was educated in Catholic schools, including Georgetown university. His education was interrupted by the Civil war, through which he served in the Confederate army. He was admitted to the bar in 1888, became a member of the senate in Louisiana in 1874, and in 1878 was made associate justice of the state supreme court. In 1891 he was elected to the United States senate as a Democrat, serving until 1894, when he was appointed by President Cleveland to the supreme bench. President Taft advanced him to the position of chief justice in 1910.

DISCUSS SUCCESSOR.

Washington, May 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The choice of a successor to Edward Douglas White as chief justice of the United States was one of the most widely discussed subjects today in official circles of the capital. Speculation centered chiefly about the name of former President William Howard Taft.

The general impression was that nothing would be done prior to the reconvening of the court after its summer recess, which begins June 6. Mr. Taft is known to have been long under consideration by President Harding as a possible chief justice.

LaMoure, N. D., May 19.—The Farmers Equity Elevator at LaMoure was burned to the ground Wednesday with a loss of 2,000 bushels of grain. At one time the oil and gasoline tank of the Standard Oil company were threatened, but the wind aided the firemen. The whole town turned out to fight the flames. The fire started from the top of the elevator, probably from friction.

FRENCH PREMIER MAINTAINS OPPOSITION TO BRITISH ON HANDLING SILESIAN QUESTION

Paris, May 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—France insists upon the execution of the Versailles treaty in drawing the frontier lines between Germany and Poland in Upper Silesia. Premier Briand declared last night upon receiving newspaper correspondents.

He stated further last night that he maintained the position outlined by himself last Sunday when answering the address of Prime Minister Lloyd George before the House of Commons on Friday he declared that invasion of Silesia by German troops would not be tolerated by France.

M. Briand said he did not see the desirability of meeting Lloyd George before all the documents relating to the Silesian plebiscite had been received from the inter-allied commission at Oppeln.

POLES WITHDRAWING

London, May 19.—Information received in official circles states that the Polish council general at Buthan has informed the inter-allied commission that Adelbert Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurrection, has issued a proclamation to the people of Upper Silesia to surrender their arms resume work and avoid military contact with the Germans.

He declares also that 10,000 men have been demobilized.

THINKS ACTION HASTY

London, May 19.—The London Times says editorially that it would have been more judicious had Mr. Lloyd George waited the end of the debate in the French chamber before reiterating in public his views on Silesia.

Convention

SHEIKS TAKE THE STAGE

GREAT FALLS WINS.
Great Falls was selected unanimously as the convention city of 1922.

A. O. U. W. delegates to the convention here are having a fine time, as well as doing a lot of work.

The general public was let in on the good time yesterday, and the organization invites the public to join in the closing festivities.

At 8 p. m. there will be a free entertainment at the city Auditorium, lasting two hours, to include musical and vaudeville numbers, moving pictures and speeches. Members of the A. O. U. W. and ladies of the Degree of Honor will be honor guests at the entertainment, and an especial invitation is extended to the public to enjoy the elaborate tree entertainment. The Auditorium entertainment will be followed by the roof garden dance, unless inclement weather prevents.

The close of the first full day's program found the visiting Workmen, who are from many states, happy over the convention thus far. Last night was the night of the Sheikhs.

Beginning in the afternoon the 62 candidates for membership in Gilez Temple No. 4, of Fargo, were put through circus stunts and at 7.30 the parade was held in the downtown streets, led by the Elks band. Candidates followed, all tied to a rope, with some in grotesque costumes. One of the features of the parade was a big wagon with little tots peeping over the side and a sign reading, "Our Daddy is Insured in the A. O. U. W."

The street dance which followed was well attended, and F. W. Snyder, head of the local lodge, today issued a word of thanks to the general public for the support. The sum of $123 was realized to help pay convention expenses.

In Oriental Robes
The Sheikhs' ceremonial began with a banquet at the Grand Pacific hotel and continued in the evening with the initiation of candidates in the Masonic temple. Sheik is the playground of Workmanship.

Under the direction of B. C. Marks, Grand Vizier, with Mehmet Ali, Calif of Wadi, the Shah of Maghera and the Pasha of Warka, clashing in resplendent Oriental robes, the candidates were put through the paces.

A great deal of serious business was before the convention, and it was anticipated by Grand Master Marks that the legislative body would not be able to finish its session today. The condition revising the by-laws of the organization, and will decide many important questions regarding insurance. Among the proposals are that the insurance field be extended to include total and permanent disability and making policies incontestable after one year.

Montana Men Busy
Montana delegates continued their campaign for Great Falls for the 1922 convention, with Byron Yates of Great Falls leading the fight, and he was confident the convention would be voted Great Falls on the first ballot.

One of the pleasant surprises of the convention for the members was the presentation by I. V. Leifer, manager for the Minot district, of an A. O. U. W. song composed by him. Each member received a copy.

An automobile ride for the many visitors, through courtesy of the Bismarck Town Criers club, was on the program for the afternoon, after the business of the convention was finished.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Opposition to the appointment of any man federal judge for North Dakota under a bill now pending in Congress until the situation has been thoroughly canvassed has developed here. Representatives opposed to the appointment of Andrew Miller on the one side and the adherents of the former attorney general of the state on the other are actively engaged in placing the matter before President Harding.

Will Hays, Attorney General Daugherty and both the senators and the house delegation from North Dakota.

Former Justice Spaulding and L. L. Twitchell of Fargo, had a session on Tuesday with Attorney General Daugherty and yesterday they called on President Harding and had a half hour interview. It is said, The North Dakota situation, it is said, was thoroughly gone into.

Spaulding and Twitchell were given a good hearing. It was too soon for the president to be expected to commit himself. But he showed a decided interest in the suggestion and listened to the North Dakota men for a full half hour, notwithstanding the fact that the large reception room was filled with people waiting to see him.

They were impressed with the belief that the president will give a hearing to all disinterested advice regarding the appointment.

Messrs. Spaulding and Twitchell are in Washington for the purpose of urging upon the federal administration the importance of recognizing the State Bar Association of North Dakota and its recommendations when the appointment is made.

Conferences have been on daily with Senator McCumber and Congressmen Young and Burtless. Spaulding and Twitchell are opposing the appointment of any man until the bar of the state and the leaders of the opposition party generally are consulted. Opposition seems to be directed against Miller and Richardson, the two men first considered as probable appointees.

Telegrams and remonstrances are coming in to Senator McCumber urging that a careful canvass of the situation be made before any action is taken to placing recommendations in the hands of Attorney General Daugherty. It will be six weeks or more before the bill passes the House if it passes at all and goes to President Harding. It is rumored that the initiative of candidates in the Masonic temple. FRIDAY NIGHT IS AMATEUR NIGHT

RESPONSIBILITY OF EXAMPLE IS TOLD ROTARAINS

E. C. Mercer of New York, Mission Worker Gives Stirring Appeal to Men of City

Responsibility to the boys and girls through the powerful example of right living was driven home powerfully at the luncheon of the Rotary club at the McKendzie hotel today in a discussion on the subject of "The Responsibility of Example" by E. C. Mercer, a New York mission worker who together with H. H. Hadley are conducting a preaching mission by laymen under the auspices of Christ Episcopal church.

They together with Rev. Dewhurst, rector of St. George's church, were guests of honor at the luncheon. Mr. Mercer handled the moral issues without gloves. He told of his own life, wrecked through indiscretion until he reached the age of 31, when he entered a New York mission conducted by Mr. Hadley and through the powerful influence of contact with Christian influences, he abandoned his way of living and has since dedicated his life to work among those who have lost hope through some form of indiscretion.

"I stood before the inmates of your penitentiary," he said, "and what did I find? Why 60 percent of those prisoners out there are mere boys. Whose fault is it? We are responsible for conditions that cause mere boys to be sent to such institutions. It is all very well for us to be sent to jail for money for boys work, but it would be better far to give the salaries to our ministers and support better the churches so that they might extend their influence."

"Don't scoff at the church. Get behind and support the churches of the city. I was the father of an infidel who did not change until after my life had been wrecked, and I have no patience with the men who assault the church. Without the churches we would sink as low in morality as the South Sea Islanders. It is the one force actively at work for better things."

"I also spoke to the boys over at Mandan at your training school under the direction of my friend, George McClelland, who was connected with the Junior Republic of America. There they stood, mere boys, convicted of stealing."

"These boys and all boys and girls need the power of example. It is not enough to give $25 for boy welfare movements. You yourself should be an example of good living. These boys and girls look right through you and it is the power of your example that goes with them more than your money and your mere interest in their welfare."

"I want to impress upon you men here also that there is a real need for work to correct the morals in our schools and colleges. It is not always the man without a chance that hits the gutter. I know better. I was the son of wealthy parents. A graduate of Princeton and Virginia universities. A baseball star, member of the fraternity, golf club and a social leader, but at the age of 31, I was a wrecked man, a bum on the streets, sleeping on park benches and about ready to commit suicide, held back only by the yellow streak that must have been in me."

"I am telling you of that side of my life merely to show what the power of Christianity can do for a man when every other influence fails."

"He urged the Rotary club to grapple with the real issues of the day. He declared that the work of redemption must start in the home. Mr. Mercer scored tendencies of dress among the high school students of today and the condition of morals found among the youth. He told of conditions that he had found in North Dakota institutions, but declared that the remedy must start with the home and the men themselves who through power of example and the force of right living could do much to bring about better morals.

The affiliations of these men are strictly undenominational. Mr. H. H. Hadley will speak Sunday morning at St. George's church. He is a reformed gambler, who has taken up mission work in New York with wonderful results. Speaking about the Mandan Training school he said that steps should be taken to separate the juvenile delinquents from those who were advanced in crime. He declared, speaking from a long experience as prison chaplain, that it was a pity these boys should be thrown into the same association. He declared that Mr. McClelland had a great work ahead of him there to install modern

The telephone system laces this community together, and connects it with neighboring towns.

Of all inventions there is none that has so greatly facilitated inter-communication as the telephone, and there is no other service that gives a patron so much pleasure and profit for the money he spends.

The telephone wires are so reliable that we fume and fret if they falter or are silent for a few hours.

U. S. WOULD WHIP JAPAN, ASSERTS Y. M. C. A. SEC'Y

Talks to Audience at Chicago on Trip to the Orient

Chicago, May 19.—"A fight to a finish between Japan and the United States would result in Japan being wiped off the map," George Gleason, Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has just returned from a trip through the Orient declared today in addressing the international disarmament congress here.

Mr. Gleason declared that, "only those living in the kindergarten of international affairs could picture the possibility of war between this country and Japan. However, and that combined all the friction growing out of the Y. M. C. A. China and California would not affect the remotest cause for war."

KNIGHTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Bismarck Man is Advanced By Commandery

Dickinson, N. D., May 19. Officers of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar were elected here as follows: Grand Commander, J. H. Francis Grafton; Deputy Grand Commander, E. C. Eddy, Fargo; Grand Generalissimo, A. V. Huls, Devils Lake; Grand Chaplain General, Otto Bauer, Mandan; Grand Sentinel Warden, J. H. Turner, Bottineau; Grand Junior Warden, G. H. Russ, Jr., Bismarck; Grand Prelate, Rev. John Orchard, Dickinson; Grand Treasurer, E. G. Guthrie, Fargo; Grand Recorder, W. L. Stockwell, Fargo; Grand Standard Bearer, A. D. McCannell, Minot; Grand Sword Bearer, G. H. Olmstead, Grand Forks; Grand Warden, Alfred Steele, Jamestown; Grand Captain of the Guard, Henry W. Wilson, New Rockford. Six Knights are present from various parts of the state for the commandery meeting. One of the features of the entertainment was a trip to the Bad Lands.

EXPENDITURES OF MINNESOTA $100,000,000

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—Minnesota, for the fiscal year 1921, ending June 30, 1921, will pass the $100,000,000 mark in combined expenditures and disbursements for the first time in history, George LaFolch, chief accountant in the office of Henry Rines, state treasurer, said today. Ten years ago the amount to pass through the office of the state treasurer in a year was only slightly more than one-fourth as much as today, while twenty years ago the total was a little more than an eighth of the 1921 figure and thirty years ago, or in 1891, it was $8,187,243.11, or about a twelfth of the present figure. Few states are called upon to handle the vast sums that the Minnesota treasurer does in a year in New York, with a population in excess of 10,000,000, the total receipts and expenditures for 1920 were approximately $210,000,000 or $20 per capita, while Minnesota's $100,000,000 year will mean a per capita state funds total of $40, based on Minnesota's population of approximately 2,500,000.

DR. MORROW TO TALK HERE ON DRY CAMPAIGN

Michigan Orator Will Speak At First Baptist Church Next Sunday

Dr. George W. Morrow of Michigan, will speak at the First Baptist church here next Sunday morning on the subject "America's Present Opportunity at Home."

DR. G. W. MORROW
Dr. Morrow is waging a campaign for more rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws, and has crossed the continent several times in speaking tours as representative of the Anti-Saloon League of America. The Lowell Ledger, Michigan, recently said: "Dr. Morrow delivered a terrific arraignment of the dying drink traffic and the feeling grew so intense that despite the sacredness of the place and the hour, the congregation could not refrain from applause." John G. Woolley had been assigned by the National Anti-Saloon League headquarters to North Dakota, but when that gentleman a few weeks ago had to cancel his dates on account of illness, Dr. Morrow was prevailed upon to fill Mr. Woolley's dates and was secured for Bismarck for next Sunday.

HEAVY LOSSES IN GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Paris, May 19.—Charges that the French government usually suffers a loss in its business ventures were made in recent debates in parliament. It was asserted that the government's operation of the state railroad, post-office, telephone and telegraph lines the gasoline monopoly and its sale of American and French supplies left over from the war, were all unbusinesslike, and the cause of heavy balances on the wrong side of the ledger. The state railroad's estimated deficit for 1921 is given in the budget as the equivalent of $79,450,000. "Every time the state railway received 100 francs," says the Senate Public Works Commission, "the taxpayer must take 57 francs out of his pocket to balance the railroad's accounts."

Operation of posts, telegraphs and telephones calls in the budget, for a deficit of about $41,802,000. Government trade in gasoline—a monopoly held over from the war—was said in the chamber has been costing the state $125,000 monthly. The government has on hand eight months' supply, bought on a high market and worth now on the world's market, according to all experts about $150,000,000 less than its cost. Twenty thousand employees of the post telegraphs and telephones, according to a senate commission's report, were ordered discharged after the war, at the insistent suggestion of parliament in order to give their old places to war veterans. The government, the report continues, gave them from 400 to 600 francs each, when discharging them as temporary employees and then according to an imaginative conversation recited in the senate by Senators Pellasse, the government said to the employees: "What would you say if I were to keep you, beginning tomorrow, as substitute workers. You will get the same wages. Do you accept?" "Yes," replied the discharged employees, "but must we give back the bonus?" "Oh, no," answered the government. "That would not be generous. You have the bonus. Keep it. You are discharged but remain with us."

FIND RELIEF FOR EPILEPSY

St. Paul, Minn., May 19. A comparatively new medicine, luminal, is being used with considerable success in the treatment of epileptics at the Perkins State Hospital for the Insane, according to a report of the State Board of Visitors for Public Institutions. Superintendent George C. Welch, a physician, gives the credit for the success of these treatments to Dr. W. L. Patterson, assistant superintendent. In practically every case treatment has reduced the number of epileptic seizures and in some instances appear to have done away with them altogether.

MANDAN NEWS

BISMARCK ROTARIANS INSTALL CLUB AT MANDAN OF 25 MEMBERS

Twenty-five "live wire" business and professional men were installed as members of the Rotary at Mandan last evening. Bismarck members of the Rotary under the command of President Burt Finney, chief aide-de-camp J. L. Bell and song leader, Henry Halverson, followed by high privates and others made a descent on the twin across the Big Muddy to see that the Mandan Rotarians were started in a real Rotary fashion.

Dinner was served at the Lewis & Clark hotel. During the meal the Bismarck Rotarians sang the Rotary songs and some others which have been concocted as the result of one year's good-fellowship among the Bismarck members.

Fred L. Conklin, district governor, was to have installed the club as the official representative of Rotary, but he was called out of the city and was unable to attend. Mr. Bell served in his place and gave an exceedingly interesting exposition of the spirit of Rotary.

Charles Robertson of Mandan has been the leading spirit in launching the Rotary club and the directors were insistent that he become its first head but he declined and James Hanley, former district judge, was named. A glowing tribute was paid to Mr. Robertson's activity in putting Mandan upon the Rotary map.

Insistent that he be a member of the first roster of officers, the directors made him vice president. The line-up of officers follows: President, James Hanley; vice president, Charles Robertson; secretary, Evert Lanterman; treasurer, A. H. Peterson, and sergeant-at-arms, Peter Lyman; directors, J. M. Hanley, Charles Robertson, H. Peterson, Fred Mees, John Sullivan, Dr. B. S. Nickerson and G. A. Renden.

When the preliminaries were over Mr. Hanley turned the meeting over to Mr. Finney and the Rotary principles were thoroughly explained. Justice Christianson, an honorary member of the Bismarck club, emphasized the spirit of service that dominates the Rotary idea. Ray Bergeson, secretary of the Bismarck Rotary, explained the necessity of a 100 per cent attendance.

Responses for Mandan were made by Mr. Hanley, John Sullivan and Joseph Devine.

SISTER OF C. T. SPONSEL TO WED IN CHICAGO

Mrs. C. T. Sponsel leaves Monday, May 23, for Chicago, to remain for several weeks.

While in Chicago, she will attend the wedding of Miss Marie Sponsel and Mr. Kenneth Kendall of Indianapolis, which occurs on June 1. Mr. Kendall is an Ohio State graduate and of a prominent Indianapolis family. Miss Sponsel is a sister of C. T. Sponsel of Mandan. She is well known here and has a host of friends among the younger set, who will wish her every happiness. The young couple will be at home after Sept. 1st, at the St. George hotel in Chicago.

Word has been received by friends of Dr. S. B. Toney, who was operated on at a Bismarck hospital on Monday, that he is resting easily so far. It is hoped that he will continue to improve.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.
Mrs. Frances McDonald and Mrs. W. H. Vallancey will go as delegates to the state convention of the Daughters of Isabella at Bismarck, May 23 and 24. At the regular meeting of the D. of I. tonight, plans for attendance at the convention will be formulated. It is expected that there will be a large number from here at the banquet which will be served on Monday night.

NEW PLANTINGS IN CUSTER PARK

Many Additional Organizations Contribute Plantings

Additional plantings were made in Custer park yesterday in the work of beautifying the park, which is being carried out under the leadership of the Woman's Community Council.

The work is under the direction of George Will, and with hearty cooperation of member organizations of the Council and others, it is believed that the park will be transformed into a beautiful spot.

The tree given by Mrs. J. P. Dunn in memory of Mark Kellogg, correspondent of the Bismarck Tribune and the New York Sun, with Custer's troops, was planted in the park today. Additional plantings were given by the following:

Monday club, planting not determined, probably flower bed, War Mothers, second gift of elm tree; Pythian sisters, flower bed; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones, lilacs; Mr. and Miss Weisenborn, lilacs, birch tree and roses; Arts and Letters club, elm tree; Friends of Native Wild Life, elm tree; O. H. Will and company, large bed of perennials; Col. C. KANSAS DEBATE TOUR ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST

Townley and Langer Accompanied by Newspaper Men On Tour

FIRST DEBATE DESCRIBED

Kansas Paper Tells of Difference in Methods of Two Debaters

A. C. Townley in Kansas are attracting a great deal of attention, according to reports reaching here.

Townley has quite an organization making advance arrangements for the debates, according to the Salina, Kan., Daily Union.

"He is surrounded by such men as Merrick, of Colorado; Jess Johnson, formerly of Kansas, now of Nebraska; A. E. Bowen, credited as being the brains of the league; Capt. Mallon, George Parsons, Prof. Fred Wilson, Mr. Lux and others," says the paper.

"Mr. Langer," continues the paper, "is traveling with a much smaller corte, leaving here with Capt. Hale, who will be with him the rest of the week. Out of town newspaper men are accompanying the delegation."

Paper Describes Debate

In describing the opening of the first debate the newspaper said: "Former Attorney-General William Langer of North Dakota, drew a stinging indictment of the Nonpartisan League movement of the state of North Dakota Tuesday afternoon of last week, in the first of a series of debates with A. C. Townley, founder and president of the League, at Oakdale park in this city."

"Mr. Townley, gunning and in a peculiar style of oratory not only defended the work and accomplishments of the league in that state, but predicted it continuous growth, and asserted that the league program as carried out in North Dakota was beneficial to the citizens of that state."

"The debate was attended by about 800 people, over half of the audience being composed of farmers. Owing to the late arrival of Mr. Townley, the meeting was late in starting. It was called to order by O. A. Kitterman, president of the Defense League. W. A. Leighton being introduced as chairman of the meeting. In a brief address, he told of the objects of the meeting, and asserted that every person had a constitutional right to free speech and views on government, for after all government was of the people."

"He announced the subject of the debate between the opposing leaders as follows: 'Resolved that the Nonpartisan League program as managed by the leaders of the league, has been detrimental to the people of North Dakota.'

"Each speaker was given one hour for their main arguments, 15 minutes each for rebuttal, and the affirmative speaker 15 minutes for surrebuttal. The speakers held the attention of the audience, as they held before the people of Kansas the dirty political linen of North Dakota, and attempted to wash it, and hang it upon the Kansas clothes line to dry. A series of these washings will be held, but how many, neither side appears to make a prediction.

The Main Arguments

"The two speakers were far apart in their main arguments. Mr. Langer arraigned the leadership of the Nonpartisan League as being incompetent, composed of socialists, I. W. W.'s and the scum of the earth, and that the program of the league, since it got control of the state, was no different than that which the people voted during the years 1911 and 1915, years before the league was organized and the state is worse off now than ever, was the general thought of Mr. Langer's address.

Townley's Main Argument

"Mr. Townley based his main argument upon the history of the league, reviewing the elections of 1911 and 1913, asserting that the league came into existence, as a result of the legislature being controlled by big business, such as millers and elevators and the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis, and that it was necessary to 'clean house' in North Dakota to have the wishes of the people enacted into law. In his main argument he only replied to Mr. Langer on the question of taxation.

The Rebuttals

"In the 15 minutes given the debaters in rebuttals, they got a little closer together, and began answering some of each others arguments, the arguments finally sitting down to taxation, hail insurance, and a considerable amount of personality, each promising that the debates would last for ever so long, Townley claiming that he would 'drag Langer all over the nation' and Langer agreeing to follow 'Townley wherever he went.'

Townley Gets Post Dated Check

"William Langer, opening the debate, asserted that he tried to get Townley to debate for two years and promised to give him $100 if he would meet him on a platform. He asked Townley to come forward and get the check. With a smile Townley complied, took the check and said, 'I never refuse money,' whereupon Langer announced that, 'I gave him a post dated check, such as he is now getting in North Dakota, and he will wait a long time to cash it.' The incident caused a ripple of amusement. Townley accepted the check, and a sort of sarcastic smile covered his face."

Bath Room Beauty

The secret of making your bath room beautiful is the installing of high-grade, modern plumbing fixtures. If your fixtures are old and unsanitary, a new "Standard" Porcelain Enameled bath or lavatory will work wonders in the appearance and sanitation of your bath room.

Decide now to change from the old to the new and let us quote you prices on these fixtures. They cost less than you imagine. We estimate at any time and guarantee all work to satisfy you. Repair jobs given prompt attention.

The days are coming when the Bath Tub and shower call often—the summer days when night time finds us tired, sticky and uncomfortable.

F. MILHOLLAN AND BRIDE WELCOMED

At a reception in Odd Fellows hall last evening, a host of the commissioner's friends welcomed Frank O. Milhollan and his bride to their home in Bismarck after an extended wedding trip. Officers and the staff of some departments were guests and a delightful program of music interspersed with short talks made up the diversion of the evening. The ladies of the party served a delicious buffet lunch, at which time Governor Frazier expressed the felicitations and good wishes of the party. Mr. Milhollan responded gracefully, and Messrs. Anderson, Puderbaugh and Metzger added timely remarks.

Before departing the guests presented the bride and groom with a handsome gift as a souvenir of the welcome to the newly married couple.

LADY FORESTERS.

St. Anne's Court of Lady Foresters of Bismarck entertained St. Mary's and St. Anne's Court of Foresters of Mandan at a most pleasing banquet Tuesday evening in the K. P. hall. Covers were laid for nearly 150 members, and roses, carnations and ferns made very pretty table decorations. Mrs. Chas. Wynkoop, Chief Ranger of the Bismarck Court, presided as toastmistress; the two Chief Rangers of the Mandan Courts and Rev. Father Slag responding with entertaining, as well as instructive toasts. Music during the banquet was furnished by St. Mary's school orchestra in a very pleasing manner.

A well-received program followed the banquet, composed of readings, piano, violin, orchestra, solo dance and vocal numbers. Those taking part in the program were: Catherine A. Andrist, Clemens Boespflug, Frances and Florence Wynkoop, Margaret Barrett, Jessie Schafer, Margaret MacDonald, Mrs. Hugh Fortune, and Emmett Griffin.

CUPID PARTY FOR MISS CASPARY.

Mrs. J. L. Bankston and Mrs. W. T. Brown were hostesses this afternoon at the home of the latter on Fifth street, complimenting Miss Bergliot Madelade Caspary, a June bride. Fifteen intimate friends of the honor guest were bidden. A course luncheon was served on small tables in decoration of green and white. The bride's table had a special decorative plan the center of the table being arrayed in a pair of very correctly arrayed wedding participants with all accessories of the table to match. When the guests assembled a cupid in the person of little Peggy Bankston.

hailed a green and white bear, a real live "Kewpie," the wee Miss Jack Bankston, who had gifts for the honor guest in her fairy equipage. The gifts were additions to the lovely gold lustre set coming into possession of the bride to be during the many little social affairs given in her honor.

The afternoon was spent with busy needles and thimbles, touching up the trousseau of the honor guest.

ASK POPPIES PLANTED.

The Ft. Lincoln chapter of American War Mothers, in support of the suggestion of Mrs. A. E. Jones of Lakota, State War Mothers, asks residents of the city to plant a bed of poppies this spring in memory of the hero dead who fell in the poppy fields of France. The action was taken at the meeting of the organization Tuesday afternoon. The War Mothers gave a bed of poppies for Custer park, as a part of this plan, and also donated an elm tree for the park.

Reports made at this meeting showed there were nine service men in the hospitals of Bismarck. The chapter adopted a resolution received from the national organization, to be forwarded to North Dakota representatives in Congress, urging prompt relief for all disabled service men.

The War Mothers plan to decorate the graves of eight service men in local cemeteries and the graves of two War Mothers, on Memorial day.

A social hour followed the business meeting and refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. J. W. Riley, Mrs. Andrew Miller, Mrs. Henry Burman and Mrs. M. H. Schaecker.

WINS HONORS

Many Bismarck people will be interested in the remarkable achievement of a former Bismarck resident, Miss Blanche Myers, who was a member of the high school class of 1918, and prominent in music circles in the capital city, until the family moved to LaMoure, N. D.

Miss Myers, who has been studying music at the noted Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and fitting herself for concert work in piano, is being graduated with honor in June. She has won much praise from her instructors for being able to complete the Artists' Course in one-half the time usually demanded. On Monday, May 16, Miss Blanche crowned herself with honor when she gave her graduation recital in the Conservatory Concert Hall.

Rev. R. H. Myers attended his daughter's recital and is spending a few days this week with her. From Cincinnati he will go to Winona Lake, Indiana, to attend the General Assembly meeting of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Myers is a delegate from the Oakes Presbytery.

MRS. McLEAN HOSTESS.

Mrs. Mary McLean was hostess at Rose apartments on Wednesday afternoon to the Current Events club when the final program of the year was given. Mrs. D. McGillis discussed "Some Books of the Year." Mrs. Nellie Evans reviewed Willie's "Children of Storm." "Some Authors Worth Knowing" was the topic of Mrs. C. W. Moses' paper. Mrs. Mary McLean read a paper on "Effect of Immigration Upon American Music."

Following the program the hostess served a dainty buffet lunch. The pretty apartment, just recently furnished by Mrs. McLean, was lovely in a decoration of lilacs and apple blossoms from the home garden of the hostess.

MRS. L. E. HEATON NAMED HEAD OF DIST. W. C. T. U.

Successful Meeting Held in City at Which Law Enforcement is Discussed

The district meeting of W. C. T. U. closed Wednesday afternoon after a successful session, continuing through Tuesday and Wednesday.

After devotional service led by Mrs. G. H. Quigley on Tuesday Mrs. L. E. Watkins gave an address of welcome responded to by Mrs. L. E. Heaton, of McKenzie. Miss Amy Spaulding's talk on Americanization was especially well received. Miss Spaulding, who comes from Chicago, is a national worker in Americanization.

The Mother and Daughter luncheon at the Baptist church during room on Tuesday evening was a distinct innovation and proved to be just the needed part in a plan for general welfare work.

After devotional service led by Mrs. Watkins in the evening meeting at the Baptist church, Misses Unie and Verste Frazier rendered a piano duet and Miss Norma DeVol sang. Mrs. Margaret Clifford Forbes of Minot, made the address of the evening which was received with much enthusiasm.

Mrs. H. C. Postlewaite led devotional exercises at the opening of the Wednesday meeting in the Community room of the library, reports were read from the unions at McKenzie, Driscoll and Bismarck. Mrs. Nedie Buck of Jamestown, after conducting election of district officers, gave an excellent address on Child Welfare.

Mrs. Watkins read the report of the executive committee at the opening of the afternoon meeting, followed by an address by William Lemke on "Law Enforcement." Miss Amy Spaulding closed the afternoon meeting by a continuation of her excellent talk on Americanization.

The following district officers were elected: President, Mrs. L. E. Heaton, McKenzie; vice president, Mrs. Anderson, Driscoll; recording secretary, Mrs. E. G. Boise, Bismarck; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. McCarter, Bismarck; treasurer, Mrs. Rogers, McKenzie.

Heading the departments of work were: Superintendent of Publicity, Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Bismarck; superintendent of Young People's Work, Mrs. C. W. Smith, Bismarck.

23 CANDIDATES INITIATED INTO DEGREE OF HONOR

Degree of Honor state convention continued through Wednesday afternoon. The evening session was given over to initiation of candidates, and the address of the national president, Frances Buell Olson. A class of 23 were initiated, the work being put on entirely by Mandan association. So finished was the work of the Mandan officers and staff that constant reference is made to its excellence today. Mrs. Kate Blewett, state secretary, and a past grand president, in commenting on the work of Mandan following the initiatory work, expressed pardonable pride in the fact that she, as Grand President, organized Mandan lodge twenty-six years ago.

The address of the evening, given by the national president, was a masterly effort, Mrs. Olson being a speaker of much clearness and force. She discussed the work of the order from the standpoint of the fraternal, social and protective.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Bismarck Association, and a general happy social hour followed the formal meeting.

The forenoon session of today was taken up with reports of officers. No table among them was that of the secretary, Mrs. K. Blewett, who reported that as a beneficial insurance order, a most encouraging year had just passed. She stated that the amount of insurance written on the two plans, classified and limited totaled $287,500, from Jan. 21 to May 12. She also stated that insurance in force to date is $2,641,500.

Singing closed this morning's session and a spirit of good fellowship expressed itself thereby. A ditty addressed to the state president was a little bit of jollity following the dignified session as follows.

Oh, Mrs. Lyman
You're a wonder, and
When we are old and gray
We will all say, oh, by thunder!
You were some girl in your day!
Election of officers will be completed this afternoon by five o'clock.

JUNIOR PLAY AIDS CAUSE

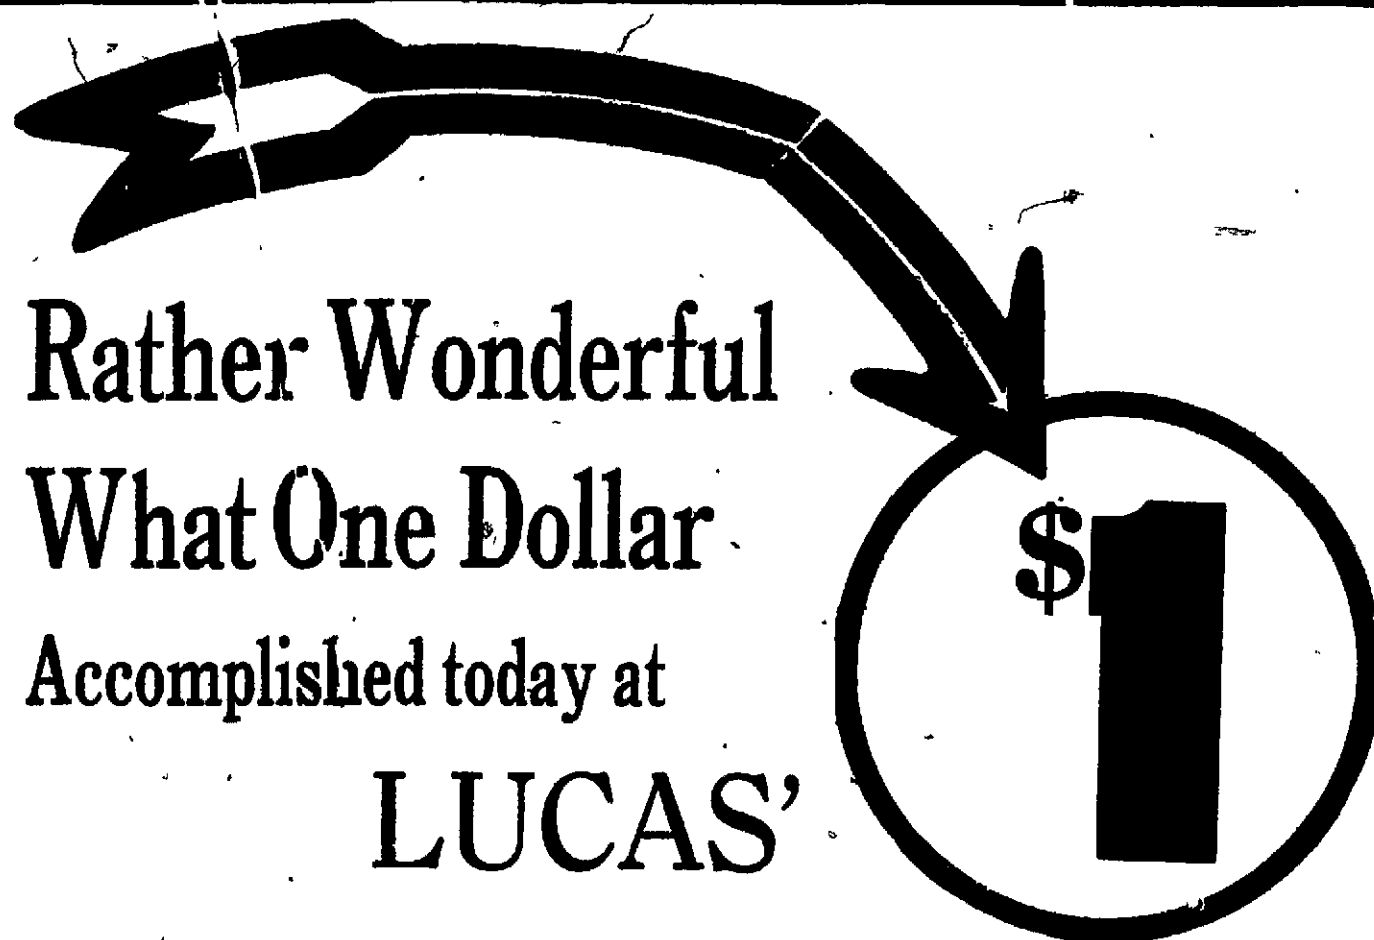

Gives Ten Per Cent of Play Receipts to Pool Fund

The Junior class of the high school not only will present the sprightly comedy, "Stop Thief Friday" night at the Auditorium but will aid two causes in the city.

It has been decided to give 10 per cent of the gross receipts to the Elks Swimming Pool fund and the $75 charge for the Auditorium, being remitted by the city commission will be given to the Woman's Community Council to purchase grass seed for planting in Custer park.

M'CLURE LEAVES DEAF SCHOOL?

Reported Head of State Institution Offered Mo. Place

William McClure, superintendent of the North Dakota School for Deaf at Devils Lake, has been elected superintendent of the Missouri state institution, according to information reaching here from Missouri. It was stated at the office of the board of administration that no word had been received at that office either from Missouri or from Mr. McClure.

Mr. McClure came to North Dakota from Missouri. He was elected at the suggestion of Governor Hyde, of that state, it is said.

ORGANIZE ROTARY.

Valley City, May 19—Tuesday evening at the Rudolph hotel, a number of leading business men of the city met to enjoy a six o'clock supper and for the purpose of organizing a Rotary club. Dr. E. A. Pray was in charge of the meeting and explained the use of the club and the method of organization. Committees on constitution and by-laws and organization were appointed by the chair and after they had reported the constitution and by-laws were adopted and the officers of the Valley Rotary club elected as follows.

CROWDS GATHER IN WILTON FOR MAY CELEBRATION

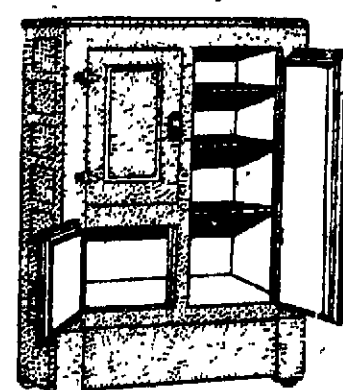

Rev. C. W. Finwell returned to Bismarck last evening and reported a splendid 17th of May celebration at Wilton. The main street of Wilton was blocked for two blocks with automobiles. All the banks and leading business houses closed, and the Grand theater was filled from 4 to 5 o'clock, and evidently enjoyed Mr. Finwell's illustrated lecture on "Norway, Sweden and Denmark Today." Nearly everybody wore the red, white and blue badge on the Wilton streets Tuesday and Wednesday.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

FARMING BY WIRELESS

If you live on a farm set up your own wireless and get all the agricultural information you need from weather forecasts to crop reports.

Such a daily radio-marketgram service will soon be available to every farmer or grange that will install a simple wireless receiving set, which costs $50 to $75.

The Department of Agriculture will furnish the information.

The Postoffice Department will send the information broadcast through the air-mail radio stations scattered over the country.

This service will make it easy for the farmer to decide, for instance, when to cut hay. Also, when to sell his grain, etc.

Whether you are a farmer or not, this is news that reaches into your everyday life—because it suggests some of the startling changes that may soon be brought about by wireless.

The time may not be far off when a business man will have a wireless receiving apparatus in his office, keeping him posted on trade events almost the very instant they occur, whether he is in a city or 1,000 miles from a town.

The time may come, within your lifetime, when many housewives in Bismarck will receive daily, through wireless telephone, such things as food prices, weather forecasts and even fashion tips.

Keep cabals out of the Yap cable knot.

WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

Are you beginning to get old?

This question interests you now, if you are on the shady side of 40, with crow's feet appearing around your eyes and stiffness creeping into your joints. Young folks, now light-hearted and indifferent to the steady flight of youth, will have their turn later.

Folk-lore says that a man is as old as he feels—and a woman as old as she looks before breakfast.

But is that true? For instance—

J. N. Smith, Civil War veteran, lives in Muskogee, Okla. He's 85 years old. Learned to ride a bicycle when he was 80.

"One of my boys came home with a bicycle and said he'd learned to ride it," Smith says. "I said that was't much of a trick. The boy (he was only 43) bet me a new hat I couldn't learn. I took him up, and, in the face of a laughing wife and all the kids in the neighborhood, learned to ride in three days. And I'd like to see any of them beat me now for long or short distances."

"It's my notion that most of the woes of mankind and womankind could be cured if these sorrowful old grouches would get bicycles and take rides through the country. My advice to any man, with one foot in the grave is to pull it out and get it to working on a bicycle pedal."

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Barker, 80, is pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Peterboro, New Hampshire. Too old to preach?

"I'm as young as I feel—that's way back in the twenties," says "Mother" Barker. "After my marriage, following the Civil War, I quit preaching and settled down to rear my two children. I went to work in a shoe factory, as a stitcher. There I stayed until the children grew up. I've been preaching, off and on, all my life. Now, at 80, I've just received my second preaching license. I keep young by preaching. It gets more refreshing every day."

Captain Thomas Haskell has been a reporter for 65 years on the same paper—the Portland (Maine) Herald.

He is 83 years old. Puts in 10 hours every day. Specializes as a marine reporter, and is known among captains all over the world.

Haskell probably is the oldest active news reporter in America, with the exception of former Representative Isaac R. Sherwood, who at 85 is "covering" Congress for the Toledo News-Bee.

And still some say that newspaper work is "a young man's game."

Age and youth are states of mind.

Old age will not clutch you until you lose heart and, as the sporting editors say, "throw up the sponge."

One idea of sarcasm is to have the government propose a sales tax on every purchase just at a time when an end to the so-called buyers' strike is so much desired by merchants and manufacturers.

Germany finally has a place in the sun—the hottest.

Mary Garden had a whale of a crop of grand opera receipts.

Many a business seeking new capital really needs less capital.

"Wash sales" sometimes make an apparently lively stock market.

Success depends just as much on knowing what not to do as what to do.

Office-seekers beware! The alligator Harding got in Florida has a grin six feet across.

It appears that "a change in taxation" merely means taking it out of your other pocket.

Concerns that watered their stock during war time are learning that it isn't the initial cost that counts, it's the upkeep.

The Senate proposes to wrap more red tape around governmental departments' salaries, thus making it easier for politicians to retain the reins.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

DESTRUCTIVE COMMUNISM

The Russia of the future will know nothing, or next to nothing, of the dire process of evolution to which it will owe its birth. This assertion is based on the incredible fact, incredible because of its abysmal stupidity, that the Russian archives, those of the past and of the present, are being pulped, literally, to provide the country with paper. In September, 1920, a paper factory was supplied with a stock of reports covering the work of the congress held in January of the same year, when at that time information concerning this very congress was needed and being called for. The revolutionary archives provide the last load of material to factories which have already engulfed the contents of Russia's priceless private libraries. In a communistic country only the state can own the libraries. In Russia it owns in order to pulverize.—Christian Science Monitor.

LO, THE POOR INDIAN!

In a recent order issued by Charles H. Burke, newly appointed commissioner of Indian affairs, certain Indian dances are condemned as immoral and it is suggested that they be abandoned forthwith. This naturally has caused indignation among the Chippewas of Northern Minnesota, and their chief says his people consider all their dances "decent." He also broadly hints that the only really objectionable dances in which the Indian indulges he learns from mixing with white folks.

In a country where the toddle, the bunny hug, the camel walk and other jazz dances are so universally popular, even in the most exclusive social circles, it seems rather inconsistent to attempt to regulate the ancient tribal customs of the Indian on moral grounds. Perhaps Mr. Burke wishes he had the power to order the white man to mend his dancing ways, but our civilization has not as yet progressed far enough to permit of the creation of a government bureau having to do with such matters. If the tendency to regulate by official decree continues this should follow in the due course of time. The Indian is the only group now enjoying the full blessings of Federal control, and we seem to have been nearly as successful in regulating them as we were in regulating the railroads.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

OUR FLAG ISN'T A RUG

The flag of the United States is a sacred emblem.

It has been hallowed by the blood of thousands of our bravest.

These that treat it with less than the respect it deserves commit a sacrifice as much as he who defiles a shrine.

Our attention is called by Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, state chairman of the D. A. R. committee on the correct use of the flag, to recent misuses of the flag as a decorative emblem. In one instance a statue rests on a truck covered with flags used as bunting; again, a prime donna on a patriotic occasion stands on a flag; in a third instance, a woman uses a flag as a shawl.

The flag is not a rug or a tablecloth; it is not an ornament or a garment; it is not lawful to use it for a trademark or as an advertisement.

Plenty of Red radicals, in America and overseas, would like to wipe their feet on the Star Spangled Banner to show their malice because it will not cloak their disloyalty.

But we must not let them pour contempt upon it, and we who profess to be true Americans must first set the example of reverence. We cannot preach and teach to aliens a due regard for Old Glory unless we show that reverence ourselves.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

LET'S GO!
Berton Braley
We'll get no satisfaction
By looking sour and blue,
Let's clear the decks for action,
Let's see what we can do,
Instead of merely yearning
For trade again to grow,
Let's start the wheels to turning,
Let's go!
Things won't get back to normal
Until we show some life,
Stop making gestures formal
And jump into the strife,
Come, can the wails unhappy,
Forget your tale of woe,
Buck up and make it snappy,
Let's go!
What ails this well known nation?
It's plain to one who reads:
There's too much conversation
And not enough of deeds!
Prosperity's arrival
Won't be so blooming slow
If we start the revival!
Let's go!

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Filippety-Flap and Nancy looked, and suddenly they saw what Nick saw a curious sign out into the bark of a tree.

"Let's see what it says," suggested Nancy, trotting over quickly, and the others didn't need coaxing. Up they tip-toed softly as feathers, and made out these words: "The Council of Creatures." Whether the words were written in antelope language, or leopard language, or wart-hog language, or gazelle language, or something equally difficult, neither Nancy or Nick told me, but it doesn't matter, for, having the language charm that the Magical Mushroom had given them, the children could have understood had there been no letters there at all.

"The Council of Creatures," repeated Filippety-Flap in puzzled way. "I never heard of it. I wonder what it all means."

Just then a voice beside them remarked rather tartly, "That's not surprising considering that the Council of Creatures most likely never heard of you either. Are you friends or foes?"

Filippety-Flap and the twins turned quickly and, behold, a mongoose close beside them, which also was most surprising, as one had been there a minute before.

"Friends," answered the fairman quickly.

"Oh, all right!" said the mongoose in a relieved tone. "We can't be too careful, you know." Then he went on, suddenly suspicious again "But whom are you friendly to? It doesn't happen to be Tag Tiger, does it? You're sure that Tag Tiger didn't send you to spy on us, are you?"

"No!" Filippety-Flap looked around in astonishment. "How many thousand people do you think you are, Mr. Mongoose?"

"Oh, I'm only one, but the rest are inside. You see, I'm the guard. I have to watch out here and let the others know if Tag Tiger comes along. Do you wish to go in?" The mongoose pointed to a sort of doorway between some rocks.

With the Movies

AT BISMARCK

The public will enjoy a rare treat when George Melford's production of "The Round Up," starring Roscoe Arbuckle, is presented at the Bismarck theater today. Theatergoers will remember the great success achieved by Edmund Day's notable play a few years ago. Maclyn Arbuckle played the role of "Slim Hoover," the fat and jolly sheriff.

Another Arbuckle will be seen in the screen version. The fat hero of the new Paramount picture, Roscoe Arbuckle, who by virtue of his famous Paramount-Arbuckle comedies has done his share to keep the world bubbling over with joy.

This is the famous comedian's first appearance in a legitimate role, but he is said to have shown remarkable ability in his new work. The cast is virtually all-star, and the excellent photography is the work of Paul Perry.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE

HIT AS FLIRTATIOUS MAID
Constance Talmadge, as full of fun and pop as ever, is the very popular attraction at the Eltinge theater tonight. Her vehicle is "Lessons in Love," a corking good comedy drama, adapted from Douglas Murray's stage play, "The Man From Toronto." "Lessons in Love" opened its engagement last night at the Eltinge theater to capacity crowds. The story deals with the attempts of two old men to choose a husband for their ward, a young woman with a very strong mind of her own. When one of the men attempts to bring off his nephew East to meet the girl he plays "dead," leaving a will providing that his nephew shall inherit the for-new district, prior to or on the date of hearing on the petition.

It is held, the County Commissioners had no authority to make the order dividing the school district and creating the new district, for the reason that, at the time of the making of the order, the petition was not signed by two-thirds of the resident electors in the proposed new district.
(2) During the time of the serving of the notice specified in Section 1148, C. L. 1913, and until the hearing on the petition, any school elector, who signed the petition for the proposed new school district, or a petition such as is contemplated by said section, may withdraw his name from the petition.

INGROWN NAIL
Too Nail Turns Out Itself If You Toughen Skin
A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

When things all go wrong;
If you feel a worry comin'
Stop it with a song.
Worry makes our hearts grow colder
Worry only makes us older,
Life at best's not long.
Keep a-grinnin', you'll be winnin'
Ere the day is done;
And your troubles seem but bubbles
At the set of sun.
Can't you hear the birdies chatter,
'Wonder what on earth's the matter,
That he looks so glum?"
Keep a-movin', you'll be provin'
Mighty soon, your worth;
Stop old Worry in a hurry,
Chase him from the earth.
Don't waste a single minute,
Watch your chin and step right in it,
Be a friend of Mirth!"

TO AN OAK.

By Florence Borner.
Majestic tree, within thy shade,
Have countless generations strayed;
Then like the fair and lovely flowers,
That blossomed thru the summer hours,
Faded and died away.
True lovers sat beneath thy boughs,
And breathed once more their tender vows;
The rich, the poor, the old, the young,
With rapture have thy praises sung.
In happy days gone by,
Upon a dark and stormy night,
'Tis then thou showest us thy might;
Altho' the wind can make thee bend,
He cannot cause thy life to end,
Thou powerful he be.
Whene'er I look on thee today,
I seem to hear a soft voice say:
'Live and grow strong, and thou shalt be,
Of greater worth than any tree,
Unto the world, my child."

CUSIN'

(By Florence Borner)
We used to think that Dad could cuss,
Like any man you'd find;
He'd a vocabulary
Of the most profane kind.
He didn't have to hunt a week
To find the word to fit;
Seemed to us kids somehow as if
He'd merely think of it.

He'd cuss until the air was blue
When something didn't suit,
And cussing 'round so indiscreet
Bore an inglorious fruit.
For when we kids were by ourselves
And knew that we were hid,
We'd practice up, believe you me
To cuss like Daddy did.

We used to think that Dad could cuss,
But we know better now;
'Cause recently we have found out
He's a just a-learning how.
The words come out so natural,
Like water being poured,
Each time he has to stop to crank
His blooming, bloody Ford.

TOGETHER

(Victor Stone)
My wife got up this morning
And allowed she would agree
If I would spend the day with her
To spend the day with me.
She said she thought her last year's hat
Was needing one new feather
And while she sewed it on We'd just sit down—Together.

And then I picked THE TRIBUNE up
And said I'd read the news
Aloud to her and then I'd go
And buy a pair of shoes
And I wished she'd go because she was

A real good judge of leather
And so we went and bought those shoes
My wife and I—Together.

And then we went and had our lunch
And talked of this and that
About my brand new pair of shoes
About her last year's hat
We talked of men—we talked of crops
And even of the weather
We had a meal fit for a king
A sittin' there together.

And after lunch we started out
And had a little walk
'Clear out to Foster Park and back
And had a little talk
We talked of bigger, better things
Than even crops or weather
We talked about the joy of life
When we were just—together.

And evening came—and shadows too
And we went out to dine
And I put on my Sunday-suit
Just for that wife of mine
And she put on the dress I like
And I surely wondered whether
We'd ever looked as nice in crowds
As alone that night—together.

Oh you who in your mad, mad race
For money, fame, and power
Neglect the tender sweetness
Of many a fleeting hour
You'd have the happiness you crave
If bright or cloudy weather
Would only find you heart and life
Together just—TOGETHER.

WRITES HIS THANKS FROM WASHINGTON.

Only men and women who have suffered from kidney trouble can realize how grateful one feels for relief from suffering. Nathan Harned, 621 N. St. N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for years, but got no relief until I took Foley Kidney Pills. Now I think I am well and I thank you very much." They act quickly; tonic in effect.

INGROWN NAIL

Too Nail Turns Out Itself If You Toughen Skin
A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

the two were married. Edward Dooley went to live with them.

First Husband Dies.
One day Edward Dooley became ill. Within a few hours he was dead. Lydia explained that he had eaten salmon from a can that had stood open for some time. Lydia and Robert Dooley accompanied the body back to Keytesville for burial and folks in the home town got their first glimpse of Baby Laura Marel, daughter of Lydia.

About three weeks after Lydia and her husband returned to Twin Falls, Robert Dooley died. Lydia said he had insisted on drinking from a cistern on the farm that was close to the barn and that he had died of typhoid fever. At that time neighbors said she expressed the fear to them that their baby, too, would die of typhoid.

True to her prophecy, three weeks later Baby Laura was dead.

Mrs. Dooley collected $4,500 on insurance that had been carried by the brothers and a short time later was married to William McHuffie.

The two went to Montana to live and settled on a ranch. McHuffie took out a $500 insurance policy and made one payment on it in a short time. He died, but when Lydia went to collect the insurance she found that the policy had lapsed a few days and the company refused to pay it.

In June, 1919, Lydia married Hallett Lewis, an automobile salesman, with whom she had become acquainted in Montana. One month later, on June 5, Lewis died from what doctors said was ptomaine poisoning, and Lydia collected $5,000 in insurance.

Following the death of Lewis, Lydia returned to Twin Falls where she met and married Myers, husband No. 4.

The marital experiences of the one-time Missouri country town girl eclipses even those of fiction. Ten years ago while still in her teens she was attending Sunday school and enjoying the popularity that goes with being a village belle in the village of Keytesville, Mo. At that time she was living on the farm of her father, William Trueblood, about two miles from town.

Following the opening of new irrigated territory in Idaho, Trueblood moved his family to a section near Twin Falls. Robert Dooley, a school day sweetheart of Lydia, and his brother, Edward, followed soon after, and settled near the Trueblood farm.

In 1912 Robert Dooley took Lydia, then 20, into Twin Falls one day and

MARKETS

BIG BREAK FAILS
Chicago, May 19.—Action of the wheat market today failed to justify rumors that a big break in prices would result from the passage of an anti-pit bill by the upper house of the Illinois legislature. Opening quotations which varied from 1-2 to 2-2 cents lower were followed by rallies that in some cases brought the market back to the same as yesterday's finish.

Subsequently the market scored a material advance but reports of rain in Kansas brought about free selling and temporary decline. The close nevertheless was strong, 1-1-4 to 4-1-2 cents net advance.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, May 19.—Cattle receipts 8,000. Beef steers steady to strong. Bulk $8 to $8.25.
Hog receipts 25,000. Steady to 10 cents higher.
Sheep receipts, very slow, steady to 10 cents lower.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.
South St. Paul, May 19.—Cattle receipts, 2,500. Slow, generally steady. Common to good beef steers, $8.25 to $8.50. Bulk, $7 to $7.75. Steers and heifers, mixed to city butchers, $8.50. Butcher cows and heifers mostly $5 to $6.75. Few to $7.50. Veal calves, mostly 25 cents lower. Fatter top, 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 cents. 4,000. Slow and steady to 15 cents higher. Range, $7 to $8.40. Bulk, $7.75 to $8.25. Pigs, strong to 25 cents higher. Good kind mostly $9. Sheep receipts, 200. About steady, undertone weak, no good or choice stock in load lots here.

MAKES 2 HOMERS IN ONE GAME

St. Louis, May 19.—Howard Shanks, Washington third baseman, hit two home runs in his first three times at bat in the game against St. Louis yesterday. Shanks was pitching for the Browns. The second came when a man was on base.

PATTERSON TO HURL OPENED

Wahpeton, N. D., May 19.—Roy Patterson, veteran pitcher of the Minneapolis club of the American Association, and now manager of the Wahpeton-Breckenridge club of the Dakota baseball league, will hurl the opening game for his club at Huron, S. D., on May 20.

CURLEY PREDICTS CARPENTIER WIN

New York, May 19.—Jack Curley, wrestling impresario and close friend of the Frenchman, says: "Carpentier will win the championship. His speed and skill will counteract what weight and strength advantage Dempsey will have over him. Carpentier has as much punch as Dempsey and can hit more accurately. The fight may not be long but the more rounds it goes the easier it will be for Carpentier."

KELLEY HOPES TO HIT STRIDE

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—Manager Kelley of the St. Paul club in the American Association expects to pick up some of the ground his club has lost as soon as Pitchers Shea and Hanson and infielder Whelan get into action.

Poor pitching, laid mostly to unfavorable weather conditions, has left the 1920 champions well down in the second division. A series of injuries has also helped. Berghammer, second baseman, is out of the game for at least two months with a fracture of his left arm, caused by being struck with a pitched ball. Hall, a big left-handed outfielder, has been used at second base, showing to better advantage than Kelley's recruit infielders. Carl Schmehl, sent here by Cincinnati, has been returned to that club. Whelan will be used at second until Berghammer recovers.

SPORT BRIEFS

Red Faber, of Chicago White Sox, won his fifth straight game yesterday, holding New York Yankees to 2 runs and 5 hits while the White Sox pounded out 12 hits and 12 runs.

Detroit executed a triple play against Boston yesterday, but was beaten, 2 to 0, because of Jones' fine pitching. With Henry on second and Melins on first, Young attempted to bunt. He lined to Young, who touched off McInnis on the baseline and threw to Bush, who tagged Henry off second. It was the first triple play of the year.

Elmer Smith's home run with Speaker on base gave Cleveland a 4 to 2 victory over Philadelphia.

Captain Muesel's home run with two on bases culminated a 5-run rally and Philadelphia Nationals beat St. Louis, 7 to 6.

A home run also helped the New York Giants beat Chicago Cubs, 3 to 2. Smith, of the Giants, knocked a home run in the ninth with no one on.

In the only American Association game yesterday "Jerky Jake" Northrop hurled Milwaukee to a 3 to 1 win over Columbus.

JAPS BEAT U. OF CHICAGO. Chicago, May 19.—The University of Waseda, Japan, baseball team, defeated the University of Chicago in 10 innings yesterday.

THIRD BASE ROOKIE FILLS GROH'S SHOES WITH REDS

SAMMY BOHNE, WHO IS CROWDING HEINIE GROH OUT OF THE PICTURE.

Pat Moran has a knack of picking brilliant third basemen. In Sammy Bohne, Coast league recruit, he has unearthed another jewel. Getting a man who could fill the shoes of the great Heinie Groh seemed impossible.

But the rookie had cut the buck, he fields brilliantly. He is a dangerous hitter. His speed on the bases is helping the run column of the team. Coupled with these baseball essentials he possesses an ideal third base temperament.

Groh is still a holdout. He has declared he'll never play in Cincinnati again.

Even should he rejoin the team he would not find the third base job open for him.

Moran had planned to use Groh on second this year to get him away from close contact to third base fans, who were riding the high-spirited star.

So Groh is fading still further out of the big league picture as his substitute gathers the plaudits.

Bohne is 25. He had a brief trial with the White Sox in 1915. In 1916 he finished out the season with the St. Louis Cards.

Since then he has been stepping around in American Association and Coast league company.

He hit .333 with Seattle in 1920 and stole 42 bases.

In 19 games with the Reds he has hit .357 and stole six bases. He's leading the league in the base-stealing department.

FIRST CHAPTER OF INTERESTING STORY OF JACK DEMPSEY'S CAREER

This story of Jack Dempsey's career has been written for The Tribune by Hal Cochran on information much of which was furnished by Dempsey himself. The rest was obtained from Dempsey's close acquaintances and official records.

BY HAL COCHRAN

Chapter I

This might be the story of a champion peach picker, the history of a minor, or the tale of a hobo.

But it just naturally leads into the rise to fistic fame of one William Harrison Dempsey.

About 10 years after Hiram Dempsey, erstwhile school teacher of Logan, W. Va., moved to the San Luis Valley of Colorado, the stock paid a visit to the little Dempsey ranch, between Antonio and Manassa. Then it was June 24, 1890—that William Harrison first saw the light of day.

In the early years of his life William got bits of schooling here and there, and plenty of outdoors and fresh air. It was the latter that played a big part in his growing into the husky of the family.

Handy With Mitts

When the Dempsey tribe moved to Montrose, on the western slope of Colorado, dad and mother Dempsey had six boys. They were all handy with their mitts, sometimes at milking, sometimes at peach picking, but most of the time in an athletic way.

If there was a baseball game, a football mixup, a wrestling affair or a boxing go in the neighborhood, it was a safe bet that the six Dempseys would be on deck. William and Bernard, an older brother, usually came out on top.

Bernard leaned strongly to fistic encounters and finally dropped his own first name, picked that of the once famous Jack Dempsey, "Nonpareil."

RAIL WORKERS PAY WILL BE CUT BY JURY

Railroad Labor Board Decides Conditions Justifies Its Action

TAKE UP OTHER CLASSES

Chicago, May 19.—The United States railroad board announced its intention of revising downward the wages of more than 1,000,000 unskilled rail workers by next July 1. The amount of the decrease was not announced, but will be made public on June 1.

At the same time the board announced that it would hold hearings on June 6 regarding proposals by the roads to decrease the wages of other classes of employees and would also make its decisions in these cases effective on the same date. A similar decision in the case of skilled workers would mean a cut in the pay of practically every railroad worker in the country on July 1 and would affect approximately two million men.

The announcement today which said that "prevailing conditions justify to some extent, yet to be determined, a readjustment downward of wages," was entirely unexpected and came only a few hours after the close of the hearings which have been in progress since early in April. Neither the roads or the representatives of the unions had expected any announcement for several weeks.

On July 20, 1920, the board rendered a decision increasing the pay of all classes of railway employees approximately 21 per cent or about $600,000,000 a year. Several months ago several roads announced that they could no longer operate under this deal, and stepped out into the surrounding country to take on other fighters.

Bernard Flies Out

William watched Bernard in a lot of his battles, and he saw his older brother fizzle out as a prizefighter.

In the meantime there was alfalfa to be cut, freestones to be picked and cattle to be cared for on the Dempsey ranch. William was long on the peach end of it, but managed to slip away for an occasional fight with some kid in the town of Montrose.

He finally grew into the town champion. He had licked every one of the village scappers except one. And this one and William were buddies and had never mixed in a fistic way.

Success finally prompted William to grab off the title of "Jack," dropped by his brother, and he forth to conquer amateur butlers in other towns. Jack had no money, so he took a "private car" to Delta, Colo.

Jack Bums on a Freight

"It was soft pickin'," as Jack now recalls it. "I simply hopped into an empty freight car when nobody was looking."

This ruse, as after events will show, was the first of many that went to make up the job, catch-as-catch-can adventure, portion of Dempsey's rough and tumble career.

Delta held Jack's interest for but a short time. He battled in a few bouts, picked up some odd change picking peaches, and finally headed for Lakeview, Utah, where his family had moved in the meantime.

Jack had had visions of a real money bout for some time. He soon climbed another freight and landed in Montrose. In a short time a go was arranged—his first real coin getter.

(The next story finds Dempsey a matchmaker, promoter and principal in the first match he got any cash out of.)

700 DRY LAW AGENTS TAKEN OFF PAY-ROLL

Lack of Funds to Pay Salaries Said to be Cause of the Action

Washington, May 19.—About 700 prohibition agents in various parts of the country have been temporarily laid off for lack of funds to pay their salaries. It was announced today at prohibition headquarters here.

APPOINT CENTRAL HEAD.

Washington, May 19.—Appointment of John Kjellander, of Chicago, as supervising federal prohibition agent for the central department with headquarters at Chicago, was announced today by the internal revenue bureau.

The central department comprises the states of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. Mr. Kjellander succeeds F. D. Richardson.

A. R. BOXRUD IS CAPTURED BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Charged Jointly with Leslie Simpson of "Conspiring to Obstruct Justice"

FACES OTHER CHARGES

A. R. Boxrud, former Northern Pacific railroad conductor at Dickinson, N. D., and who has been a fugitive from justice for the last three years, was arrested by federal detectives in Chicago at 8:30 P. M. yesterday, according to word received last night by M. A. Hildreth, United States district attorney for North Dakota.

Boxrud faces two indictments, one in which he is charged jointly with Leslie Simpson, Dickinson attorney, and T. N. Hartung, former Stark county sheriff, with "conspiring to obstruct justice," and the other with the theft of goods valued at approximately $5,000 from Northern Pacific box cars at Dickinson.

Hunted for Three Years.

In 1918 Boxrud was acquitted of a charge of robbing box cars at the federal court in Bismarck, but according to Colonel Hildreth, fled when he learned that the federal grand jury was investigating his case.

During the last three years Boxrud has been sought by federal officers and narrowly escaped arrest at Salt Lake City and later at San Francisco.

The indictments against Messrs. Simpson and Hartung are the result of a series of events during the early part of the war, when Fred Youngblood and L. J. Sewell, Dickinson railroad men accused of implication with Boxrud in the alleged thefts, were inducted into military service while they were under indictment and awaiting trial.

THE ROOF GARDEN

Last season the proprietor installed a Roof Garden atop the McKenzie with a dancing space of about 6800 square feet. Carpenters and mechanics are now enlarging it to about 10,000 square feet.

There is also now under construction an enclosed dining room and the roof of the enclosed dining room will be known as the Hurricane Deck, so the height will be increased as well as the dancing space.

We expect to serve a banquet atop the McKenzie for from 500 to 700 people to the Knights of Columbus on May 31st. For this occasion practically the entire kitchen equipment will be moved to the roof, to serve the banquet. The only Roof Garden between Minneapolis and Los Angeles.

MCKENZIE HOTEL

We serve a special Sunday Dinner. If we did not give the best service, the best food, there would be less incentive for people to dine at the McKenzie. Watch for the Grand Opening of the Roof Garden.

Simpson and Hartung charge that by means of misrepresentation they delayed the trial of the two men until they had time enough to induct them into service. Hartung at that time being on the Stark county draft board, and Simpson, as attorney for the two men, gaining a postponement of the case on the representation that he was ill and unable to appear in court.

Bonds Are Given.

Youngblood and Sewell were brought back from Camp Custer and convicted, shortly after Boxrud had escaped the federal authorities. They were sent to Leavenworth for terms of three years each but both of them died there of the flu. Shortly after they were convicted Boxrud, Simpson and Hartung were indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of "conspiring to obstruct justice," and Simpson and Hartung, both at Dickinson, are under bonds of $5,000 each. The search was then started for Boxrud.

One Sent to Pen.

Following the conviction against Youngblood and Sewell, Ray C. Youngblood, a brother of Fred, was convicted in federal court at Bismarck of a charge of perjury, he having testified in the cases against his brother and Sewell. He is now serving a two-year term at Leavenworth.

United States Attorney Hildreth today wired federal authorities to hold Boxrud under $5,000 bond and to bring him to Fargo within a week if he is unable to secure bail. He said that Boxrud, Simpson and Hartung would probably be tried here at the full term of federal court.
